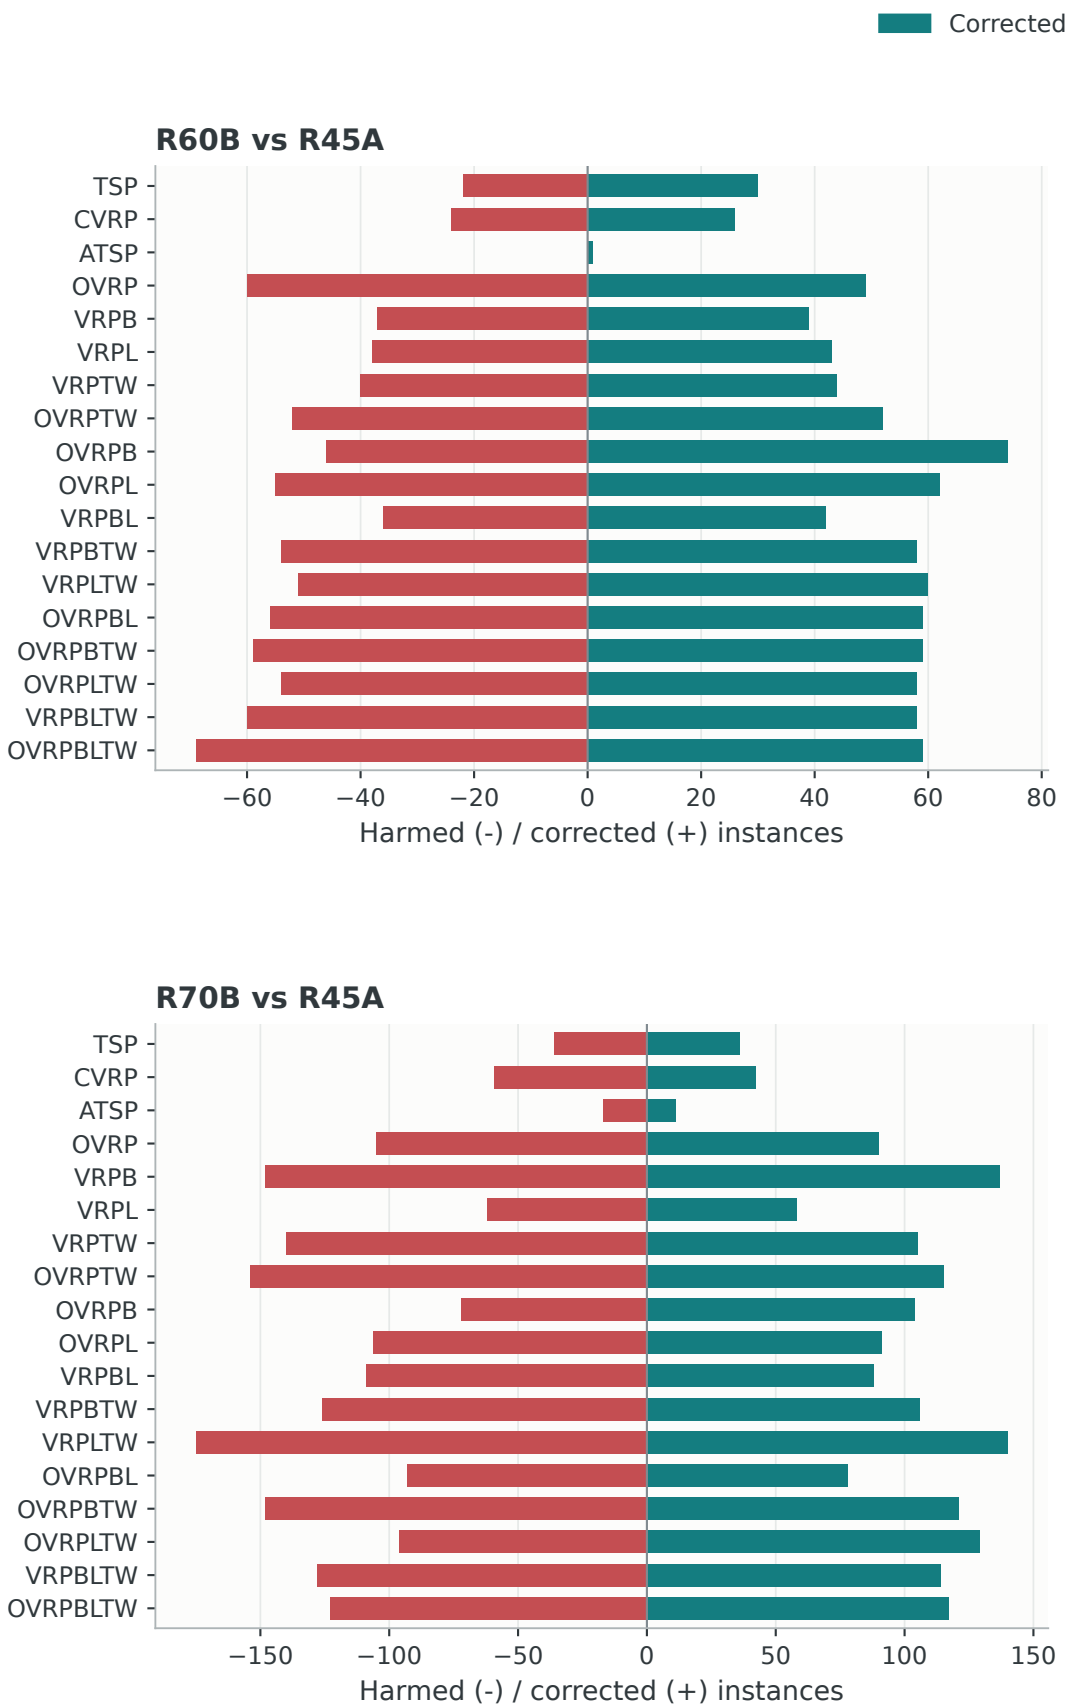
Changes from R45A: corrected, harmed, and net regret

Test | Same instances, frozen versions. Net regret = newer minus R45A; negative is cheaper.



Corrected: R45A wrong, newer right. Harmed: R45A right, newer wrong. Net regret also includes cost changes when both are wrong. Whiskers are descriptive 95% paired-instance bootstrap ranges; one seed, repeated test exposure, no confirmatory significance claim.